WINEMAKING

The bunches are hand harvested. After a short maceration, the free-run must is bled using the traditional method in order to obtain the best quality must. It is then transferred into oak barrels where it ferments and ages on its own lees.

TASTING NOTE

Pale pinkish colour.

Complex aroma of red fruit, floral notes and dry grass. Hints of wood and very expressive.

On the palate, it is unctuous, tasty, long and with very good acidity.

ANALYSIS

ABV: 14% vol.

Contains sulphites.
